Please note that submission to the conference implies a commitment to submit the paper to CESifo Economic Studies (by March 25, 2019) in case the paper is accepted to the conference. Papers that are currently under review, forthcoming or published in any journal cannot be presented at the conference. Working papers don't count as publications in this regard.

CESIFO ECONOMIC STUDIES

With the increasing specialisation in the profession, there is an urgent need for building bridges between the different areas in economics. The economic research papers published in academic journals are becoming increasingly less accessible to those not working in the same field. CESifo Economic Studies, published by Oxford University Press on behalf of CESifo, aims to bridge the gap between specialised research in economics and the interest of non-specialists. The journal combines theory and empirical research with a strong emphasis on policy issues. CESifo Economic Studies publishes contributed papers by top level academic economists which are written in a style accessible to all economists regardless of their specialization. The primary focus of the journal is on policy problems, but it also publishes high quality, non-technical articles which are of general interest to economists.

CESifo Economic Studies

The journal is circulated among a wide audience including government, business, and policy-makers as well as academics and students. All articles appearing in the journal are thoroughly refereed.

CESifo will provide accommodation and will reimburse travel costs for all presenters at the conference. CESifo Research Network members are invited to participate, but are expected to provide their own funding for travel and accommodation.
